Who is it for?

Teachers, speech and language therapists, and support staff in schools working with learners with profound and multiple learning disabilities (PMLD) or combined and complex learning disabilities (CCLD)

This is the best course I have ever been on.

I loved that you started with what our learners can do and made it about them.

What's covered?

- ✓ How our learners learn, and what they can do.
- ✓ What the government relationships and sex education (RSE) guidance includes, and how we can differentiate that to make it meaningful and appropriate for learners.
- ✓ Best practice in RSE as a discrete subject and throughout school life, including friendships, touch, personal care and learner wellbeing.
- ✓ How to address sexualised behaviour in an accessible, dignified and rights-based way.
- ✓ Sharing experiences of working in partnership with parents and the wider school community to deliver consistent messages at home and in school.

What will I leave with?

- ✓ Confidence in how to differentiate RSE learning outcomes, to make complex topics meaningful and relevant to learners.
- ✓ Ideas and methods for ways to work with learners and signposts to appropriate resources.
- ✓ The opportunity to network with staff in similar settings.
- ✓ A copy of the slides.

“

Really brilliant to have a full day of PMLD specific training. It is hard to find anything that suits our learners and this was brilliant. Great variety of learning approaches, the discussions in pairs really enabled joint working and exchanging of ideas. ”

How is the course delivered?

Delivered remotely by Zoom, the course is highly interactive, featuring small group breakout activities, larger group discussions, and facilitated by Rachael Baker, Senior RSE Specialist and highly experienced SEND RSE teacher.
