

Final Countdown to Statutory RSE

Relationships & Sex Education is changing.

We're counting down to the start of statutory RSE by guiding teachers through the new legislation, advising on curriculum design and helping you choose the best resources and teaching approaches to build an inclusive and up-to-date programme that is relevant to your pupils' real lives and supported by parents.

Friday 29 November 2019

Coin Street Neighbourhood Centre, London

We're counting down to the start of statutory Relationships Education, RSE and Health Education by helping schools understand how the new guidance will affect you, including:

- Briefing direct from the Department for Education
- Hear from young people about their needs
- Panel discussion exploring parent and community involvement
- Workshops focused on primary, secondary and SEND – choose 3 from a selection of 12
- Exhibition area to sample resources

Who should attend?

- Primary and secondary teachers leading or teaching PSHE/RSE
- Head teachers and deputies
- Pastoral staff
- Youth workers
- School nurses
- Local authority RSE leads

What should I expect?

Expert contributors include:

- Nazir Afzal, OBE
- Jade Gilks, Department for Education
- Professor Emma Renold, Cardiff University
- Holly Bourne, author of 'Am I normal yet?'
- Parentkind, Brook

Attend 3 practical workshops on themes including:

- Parental involvement
- Online sexual harassment
- Consent
- Putting guidance into practice
- Special educational needs and disability (SEND) inclusion

Workshop facilitators and panelists, including:

- Dr Ritu Mahendra
- Dr Elsie Whittington
- Dr Eleanor Draeger

Join our conference to make quality RSE a reality in your school.
